

The Third Alternative

Socialism is the celebration of weakness and envy.
Capitalism is the celebration of callousness and greed.
Natural Law (Dharma) represents the healthy rejection of both of these falsely asserted, materialistic dichotomies. Natural Law (Dharma) teaches us how to be both strong and self-reliant, as well as generous and compassionate toward others, simultaneously. Dharma (Natural Law) represents the ancient laws of nature used in the modern era to give people prosperity, health, peace, justice and order. Dharma is the third alternative, and is the antidote to the abusive and failed systems of both Socialism and Capitalism.
